Who We Are and What We Stand For

We are Habs, a strong, happy and supportive community committed to the pursuit of excellence in education. We trace our roots back to the 17th Century. Our founder, Robert Aske, established the principles that guide us to this day. We give talented and ambitious young people the opportunities they need to succeed in life.

Our academic performance speaks for itself, but we know that great exam results are just the beginning. A Habs education prepares young people for fulfilment in a world that demands flexibility, creativity, resilience and critical thought. Habs Boys and Girls step into that world with confidence, ready to shape the future and open to a lifetime of new experiences.

Our horizons are wide. We are a diverse community and we nurture a global perspective and a deep sense of responsibility for the world in which our pupils will lead and succeed. Our broad curriculum and co-curricular provision prepares pupils for success wherever their passion may take them.

We work together, offering the best of single-sex education in a co-educational environment. Habs will always be the best place to learn and the best place to teach and work. When you join the Habs family, you will be part of our community long after your schooldays are over.

Our Future

At Habs we are constantly looking for opportunities to reach new heights in providing for our pupils' changing needs. In 2016, the completion of the Medburn Centre enhanced our already excellent sports facilities, helping to ensure that every pupil can pursue his fitness goals.

In July 2018, the Preparatory School stepped into the future with a new two-storey extension, library, art and DT studios, and renovations to all existing spaces such as classrooms and administrative areas. The School is committed to providing outstanding education.

The next exciting phase of development on campus will be a state-of-the-art academic hub in the Senior School. It will offer innovative accommodation for English, Maths, Modern Languages, Economics and Theology and Philosophy, as well as a sensational new Drama Studio.

Our plans don't stop here. The evolution of Habs is a continuing journey to excellence.

Modern Languages Department

Information

Departmental Accommodation and Facilities

The department is housed in a separate Modern Languages block. Classrooms are stylish, modern and well-equipped: all have interactive whiteboards and data projectors as well as ICT capabilities. We also have a digital language laboratory and departmental computer suite. All colleagues have a desk in the smart and spacious departmental office. Every member of staff is issued with a school laptop, and in addition we have a printer/photocopier/scanner within the department. The department is due to move into a flagship new building in 2021.

Departmental Staff

Colleagues have high standards and are passionate about their subject, so as well as being friendly and informal the department is a stimulating place to work, and we are always keen to accommodate colleagues' individual interests and enthusiasms. There are currently twelve full-time and two part-time members of staff. There are Heads of French, German and Spanish who report to the Head of Modern Languages, and all departmental colleagues are given specific responsibilities within the department. In order to facilitate our innovative languages curriculum, we expect all teaching staff to teach two languages at least to GCSE standard and one to A Level standard.

The Modern Languages Curriculum

The Haberdashers' Aske's Boys' School has been at the forefront of the teaching of Modern Languages for the last forty years. A recent evaluation of our languages provision has led to further developments within this part of the curriculum.

In Years 7 and 8, the aim is to develop a love of languages and a good grounding in different types of language. During Year 7 boys study four languages on a carousel: French, German, Spanish and Latin. In Year 8 they continue to study two of these languages. On entry to Year 9 pupils may choose to continue to study the two languages they chose in Year 8 or they may decide to begin to learn Arabic.

The full suite of languages is completed on entry to Year 10 when the School gives pupils the opportunity to begin to study Russian. All pupils must choose at least one language to study through to GCSE, though some boys will choose to study up to three languages.

All languages are offered at A level. In addition we offer non-examined enrichment courses in the Sixth Form in Russian, Italian, Japanese and Arabic for those boys wishing to encounter a new language or culture.

Recent Academic Results

Results in external examinations are consistently outstanding. Last year, 61% of Modern Languages candidates achieved A* (Grade 9 or Grade 8) at IGCSE, and 82% achieved at least A grade (Grade 7). At A Level, over the past three years 48% of pupils have achieved A* and 82% have achieved at least A. Each year a number of boys go on to read Languages at University, with some applying each year to Oxbridge.

The Role

An ambitious and enthusiastic specialist is required to join our highly successful Modern Foreign Languages department.

You will be academically well-qualified, inspirational and a dynamic teacher with the ability to teach French to A Level and either Spanish or German to at least GCSE level.

Philip Bartlett
Teacher of Economics

“Teaching at Haberdashers' is a real joy. We have motivated students who really thrive here. My colleagues in the department are a great bunch to work with too. They are hard-working, supportive and keep me determined to improve my practice day in, day out.”

Richard Thompson
Head of Modern Languages

“It's hard to imagine a more dynamic and stimulating team of people than my Modern Languages colleagues: their enthusiasm, commitment and professionalism ensure that our pupils enjoy their language learning journey as well as making excellent progress. Moreover, the department is characterised by its friendly and supportive atmosphere.”
